CIRCUS ROUND-UP

Booze Gets Seventeen Men Into Laws Clutches.

Monday was a record breaker for arrests, but it was no more than was expected, as it was circus day. In fact some of the fellows began tanking up on Sunday, but where they got the fluid is the question. There is no doubt that not a little boot-legging was done, but as to who are the guilty parties is another question. There were altogether 24 arrests Monday and Monday night, as follows:

Drunk.....	17
Breach of the peace.....	2
Disorderly conduct.....	2
Carrying concealed weapon.....	1
Shooting with intent to kill.....	1
Fast driving.....	1

BIGGEST SHOW IS COMING.

The Great and Only Barnum & Bailey Circus Headed This Way.

MAKES DATE SEPT. 27.

Clarksville Passed By As the Aggregation Plays Only the Large Towns.

Advance agent Charles Hayes, of the great Barnum & Bailey circus, was here Tuesday and made a date for a fall visit of that biggest of all shows.

It will be here Thursday, September 27th, and will spread its acres of canvass in Sharp's field. This show was here nine years ago, but it has grown bigger and bigger every year, absorbing little shows, until it has only one formidable rival, that of Ringling Bros. It has spent several seasons in Europe since it was here last.

The show will charge only 50 cents admission. It will give no street parade, as the big shows have all cut out this feature.

Finance and the Markets.

Nothing about a metropolitan newspaper shows more plainly a high degree of organization than an accurate and comprehensive report of the world's markets. As might be expected, The Chicago Record-Herald covers this field in the same satisfactory manner that is characteristic of the paper's entire news service. It tells its readers every day what consols are worth in London, what money and stocks are worth in New York, what wheat and the other grains are worth in Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis and other markets and presents in addition accurate information on events and conditions that determine these values.

The Record-Herald is the only morning paper in Chicago having its own special correspondent to cover the New York stock market. Geo. S. Beachel's letters report the daily movements of the New York stock and money markets in a way that shows the writer's close association with the men who rule in those affairs in Wall street. Equal attention is devoted to the Chicago stock and financial markets and to the daily movements of prices on the Board of Trade. "The Speculative Gossip" and the notes that record Wall street and LaSalle street happenings contain many a line that shows a bit of the real "inside" history of the various markets. The Record-Herald makes it a point to cover in full the financial reports of companies and corporations and devotes particular attention to banking interests in Chicago and the West.

FAVORS R. C. CRENSHAW.

A Writer In Inland Farmer Says Experienced Man Is Needed.

STRONG ENDORSEMENT.

Gives Many Reasons Why Hon. R. C. Crenshaw Should Be Elected.

In the Inland Farmer a writer from Hodgenville gives these good reasons why Hon. R. C. Crenshaw should be elected Commissioner of Agriculture:

"No man fresh from the farm or business house can become the head of this Department and be at once efficient in the management of these great questions. It will require time and labor to become familiar with these problems. A man without experience in the office and a thorough knowledge of these things, if placed at the head of this bureau, will necessarily lose a considerable amount of valuable time in familiarizing himself with these duties. The constitution places a bar upon the Commissioner succeeding himself. Therefore when a person has served long enough to become thoroughly familiar with his duties, and has reached the point of efficiency, and where he could be of vast benefit to the people, he must step down and out and give place to one of less or no experience. What is the remedy for this? The remedy is of easy solution. Let all classes interested see that the Commissioner selects for his Assistant a man answering the requirements as nearly as possible, and let this Assistant spend his term of four years in familiarizing himself with the details of all the business of the Department, and in qualifying himself to succeed to the office. This is rotation in office, one that should be commended and should meet with the approbation of all farmers and laborers.

"A man with a knowledge of the business, a man with an interest in the business, and a man with an experience and familiarity of the business is what we need for Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics. And I want to suggest the name of R. C. Crenshaw, of Christian county, Ky., as the man to meet all of the above requirements. He is now the Assistant in this Department, and if elected at the head of it, would be enabled to carry on the work without any loss of time. Besides being a practical farmer, he is one of the best posted men in the State, and is a man who at all times is looking out for the best interests of the farmer and the laboring man."

MORE GAS.

Prices For Cooking Stoves Will be Same as St Louis.

As predicted by this paper a week ago, a change has taken place in our gas and electric company—that is to say a new man will handle the gas property of the corporation of mains for the accommodation of the public will soon be made.

The man who will manage the gas department is Mr. L. M. Shephard, of East St. Louis, who is not only a practical gas man of long experience but a capitalist as well. Having put his money into the plant, Mr. Shephard has come here to be one of us, and he is going to give our people a chance to cook their meals by gas instead of melting around a wood or coal stove. He is a genial, clever man and it won't be long before our people will know and appreciate him, as he intends to give those who will put gas stoves in their kitchens a chance to use gas at the price paid in St. Louis. Mr. Dan Young will remain as Supt. of the company and Mr. James A. Young, Secretary and Treasurer, will remain in the position he has filled for some time. Really there is no change in the personnel of the company—it is simply more capital and a man who understands his business to have charge of the gas plant of the company.

Meeting at Guthrie.

Evangelist T. N. Compton is conducting a revival meeting at the Baptist church at Guthrie.
